Easter Musicals Given By Squire Musical Society; Squire Coop Talks

Entirely appropriate to the day (Good Friday) the Squire Musical Society of Ogden gave an Easter musical at the home of Mrs. David Eccles on Jefferson avenue and Twenty-sixth street, last evening. Mrs. Royal Eccles was hostess on this occasion.

The Eccles' home was converted into a garden with lovely palms, ferns and cut flowers, lilacs and Easter lilies arranged in an effective manner throughout the rooms. The feature of the evening's program was the reviewing of the opera, "Parsifal," by Squire Coop. Mr. Coop not only reviewed the opera with vocal and piano illustrations but told something of the life of the composer, Wagner, whose final composition is considered quite the finest of his operas and is much more of a sacred musical drama. Squire Coop described the style of the composer and told how thoroughly he developed a theme. This is especially evident in the musical drama, "Parsifal."

While abroad Squire Coop visited Bayreuth, a secluded little hamlet of Bavaria, where the great composer made his home following his banishment from Germany because of his radicalism.

WOMAN ATTACKED AT SALT LAKE CITY CLUB

Proprietor of Former St. Joe Roadhouse Alleged to Have Beaten An Entertainer

SALT LAKE, April 3.—Mrs. Maud Clark, 30, of 624 E. Second South street, is at her home suffering serious injuries, following an attempted assault by Harry Johnson, alleged by the police to be the "king of bootleggers in Utah," at the Lake View Social club, early Thursday morning. Johnson was arrested at East Second and State streets early yesterday by Sheriff C. E. Malder of Davis county and City Detectives Lester Wire and G. B. Hamby, following the issuance of a complaint on a statutory charge by County Attorney L. I. Lawson of Davis county. He was released late yesterday on $1000 bail after being taken before Precinct Judge Irvin F. Fisher of Bountiful.

Engaged as Entertainer. According to Mrs. Clark's story to the police and county attorney, told from her bed, where she lies suffering from a deep gash in the scalp and a severely injured leg, she had been engaged by Johnson as an entertainer at the Social club, formerly the St. Joe roadhouse, which was ordered closed some time ago following raids by the police in which large quantities of liquor were confiscated.

Separated From Friends. Then she states that Martin Callaghan, Ben Bull and a man known to her as Tally managed to separate her from her two companions and that she soon as the others had left, Johnson, she claims, attacked her. Fighting frantically, the woman finally managed to elude Johnson by jumping through a window in the main clubroom. Her clothes were torn from her body during the frantic struggle, police say.

She was picked up by passing automobilists and brought to Salt Lake, where she was placed under a physician's care.

Testimony of the terrific struggle which the woman put up was evinced by the evidence secured at the scene of the alleged assault yesterday by Sheriff Malder, when he visited the place to secure the woman's clothing.

Clothing Found. According to the sheriff, the clothing was scattered about the clubroom when it was torn from her body. A search of the premises for liquor failed to net any results yesterday.

Johnson is well known to the police who say that he has been convicted on several occasions of violating the liquor regulations.

Joseph Clark, husband of the injured woman, accompanied the officers in their investigations yesterday. He will prosecute Johnson to the limit, according to his statement to the police.

Effective April 1, an additional section of Southern Pacific train No. 2, from San Francisco to Chicago, was put into operation, according to word from local railroad offices. The second section of train No. 2 will be made up of eight cars and has been put into operation because of the many tourists who, after spending the winter at the west coast, are now starting to return to their homes in the east.

All Pullman reservations on both sections on train No. 2 have been taken up for more than a month in advance, he stated. The orders regarding the additional section state that this service will be continued until June 15, but present indications are that the traffic will continue as at present until late in the summer.

BUTCHER DECORATES HIS MEATS WITH ROSES

While silk purses cannot be made from sows' ears, James Snider, employee of the Western Market, has achieved success in conceiving an artistic arrangement from side meat and the ham of a porker.

With his butcher's tools he trimmed a slab of side meat to a smooth surface and carved thereon roses and other decorations, giving the meat an unusual decorative effect.

SIXTY MORE WOMEN AGAINST DAYLIGHT SAVING

Chinese music has always been beyond the grasp of the occidental mind, appearing to have neither rhyme nor reason to it. As a matter of fact, a Chinese musician must be very skilled, indeed, in his profession to hold a position in an oriental orchestra. Chinese music is not written. The words of some of the favorite songs have been preserved, but the music has been handed down from father to son for generations that go far back before the day of the troubadours. When music is played it is played according to the memory of the musician and his idea of interpretation. A musician varies the performance as his best judgment dictates and the strings, reeds or brass may break in at almost any time.

The constant strikes, followed by the lockout and the shorter working day in Catalonia, have so added to the cost of production of certain articles that certain products may now be imported which previously could not compete with local manufacturers. An example of this is hosiery, which has been brought in in considerable quantities from the United States.

The young lady across the way says she understands Liberty bonds but that seems rather high for a $50 bond and not every one can afford the larger ones.

In the Rosario district, Argentine, there are 183 prosperous flour mills. The industry is dominated by three powerful companies. Argentine flour competes with flour from the United States in the markets of Brazil.

But even a reptile exhibit in a museum won't take a man back to the days before July the first.

PETER W. COLLINS TO LECTURE ON BOLSHEVISM

Peter W. Collins, lecturer on domestic and foreign questions, is to speak in the Ogden Tabernacle on the night of April 6, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the local branch of the Knights of Columbus. His subject is to be "Bolshevism, the Red Menace." The speaker will be introduced by the mayor.

NORMA TALMADGE AT ORPHEUM TUESDAY

Life in a fashionable boarding school for girls, the comradeship of some and the petty jealousies of others are cleverly depicted in the screen version of Le Roy Scott's novel, "A Daughter of Two Worlds," to be shown at the Orpheum theater, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

Norma Talmadge is the star. She takes the part of Jennie, daughter of Black Jerry Malone, proprietor of a notorious underworld cabaret, who has sent her to the school under an assumed name to escape incarceration in jail for a forgery she did not commit. It was Black Jerry's cherished ambition to see his pretty daughter elevated from her sordid environment. At the school, Jennie becomes the steadfast chum of Sue Harrison, from a home of wealth and refinement.

Her remarkable rise forms the theme of a highly interesting story.

Because of the great number who were unable to see this picture Manager Goss has arranged for a return engagement of two days.
